The Five-Twenty Bonds Again

[From the N Y Com Herald]

A number of ingenious hypotheses have been resorted to for the purpose of showing why the principal of the United States five-twenty bonds is not payable in gold, but at the same time it is fully admitted that the interest on those bonds is payable in gold, because the law expressly stipulates to that effect So far as we have seen, no attempt has been made to set aside the well defined requirements of the statute, but only to give them a signification which may avoid the payment of the principal in coin. Everybody agrees that the interest is so payable, objection being taken only to liquidating the principal on the same basis. It would, however be well for those who so persistently advocate this style of argument, to give the laws bearing on the subject a more rigid scrutiny than they seem to have yet done All the statutes bearing upon this point are explicit, and all the acts of our Government have been in accordance with their explicit requirements The law under which the five twenty bonds were issued unmistakably stipulates that all customs duties shall be paid in coin only, and that one per cent of all such duties shall become a sinking fund the interest of which shall be used for paying the public debt of the United States. Here, then, is a volume of coin, set apart as such, for the single and special purpose above stated This is one emphatic requirement that the principal, which is part of the public debt, shall be paid in coin, because it is part of the public debt This act passed February 25th, 1862, was reaffirm under the joint resolutions of March 14th, 1864, more than two years subsequent, and finally disposed of beyond the probability of doubt by the Consolidation Act of March 3d, 1865, one year afterwards It was under the last named act that the five twenties of 1865 were issued, and it expressly requires, as if to clear any and all doubt on the matter, that all the United States six per cent funded stocks, or funded stocks not bearing over six per cent per annum interest, shall be payable, principal and interest, in coin At the time of passing the act of 1862, under which the first issue of five-twenties was made, gold only commanded about two per cent premium, and as a consequence, Government realized nearly the face value in bonds in gold When the proviso to the act of March 14th, 1864, was enacted, which restrained that the principal of the six per cent. interest bearing bonds should be paid in coin, the Secretary of the Treasury was authorized to sell part of the surplus gold in the treasury, and gold was then worth 151 per cent premium. Again, when the Consolidation Act of March 3d, 1865, became law, gold was at 128 per cent. premium Under the pledges given in the various enactments cited, Government has paid, in gold, from its customs revenues, $50,000 000 United States notes, as the equivalent for gold receivable for customs in August 1861 and January, 1862 It has also paid $2,883,000 of the funded debt of 1842, which became due when gold was worth 113 per cent. This was in December, 1862 Also, $3,361,800 worth of Texas Indemnity stock of 1850, which was due in July, 1865, when gold was worth 140 per cent; $3,400,000 of the funded six per cent stock of 1867 8, which become due this year and next, were paid in gold The profits on the sales of surplus gold sold from time to time by the Secretary of the Treasury have so far exceeded all these demands that he has reduced the principal of the public debt by the sum of $99,114,203 during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1866, and also a further reduction of $139,221,264 during the fiscal year terminating June 30th, 1867, a grand total of $238,345 417 in two years, paid in gold in accordance with law

The conversion of the seven thirties, which has been so rapidly going on of late, it is believed will enable the Secretary to lay by a sinking fund of $20,000 000 per year in gold, the proceeds and accumulation of which will be applied to the purchase and extinguishment of the gold bearing debt of the country, also in accordance with law It is estimated, that but for the delay which has occurred in reconstructing the Southern States the unsettled political condition of the country and the terrible epidemic which has raged in large districts at the South, the customs receipts for the current year would have reached $200,000,000 in gold So far since the close of the war, these revenues have averaged $175 000 000 per annum Our entire debt will soon be funded within $2,000,000,000 of gold bearing bonds, at an annual interest of $116 000 000 in gold One-fourth of the principal bears five per cent interest, and nine-tenths claim an interest of six per cent, per annum From all these data it will be seen that not only the act of February, 1862, requires the payment of principal as well as of interest in gold but that the same stipulation is even more emphatically expressed in the co-operative acts of March 14th 1864, and March 3d, 1865; also, that the action of the Government has been uniformly in support of this reasoning Five-twenties bear only six per cent. interest, and therefore come within the scope of the act of March 3d, 1865, which absolutely declares that all the six per cent. funded stocks shall be paid, principal and interest, in coin By coin, we mean either gold or its equivalent in currency. It would be strange and indefensible on the part of the Government to pay in gold such demands as the Texas Indemnity Debt and the Funded Debt of 1842, at a period when gold was 140 per cent premium, and refuse to pay debts incurred for the salvation of the country in anything but a depreciated paper currency The Texas Indemnity debt and the Funded Debt of 1842 were incurred at a time when the Government was under no distress for money, and when no danger menaced the safety of the Union; but the law required payment of those liabilities when due, to be made in gold, and it was so made, even when coin was at a fearful premium and public exigencies were pressing. In like manner the law—for there are no fewer than three bearing on this point—make it obligatory to pay all Government funded stocks which by contract over six per cent. interest, principal and interest, in coin As a matter of exact law, the five-twenty bonds must be paid in gold, principal and interest, equal with the Texas Indemnity and Funded Debt claims of 1842, while as a matter of honor, generosity and public gratitude the five twenties have the preferral place All the talk about Government not realizing more than $250,000,000 or $300 000 000 in gold for the issue of $600,000,000 in bonds is bosh, mere special pleading, without a grain of truth for its basis

As before stated, in March, 1862, when the bonds under discussion were issued, gold commanded only from one to two per cent. premium, and it was only in June of the same year that specie payments to the army and navy ceased. Government actually realized nearly the full face value of the bonds in gold, and now it is urged that what we received in gold should be paid back in currency at sixty or seventy cents on the dollar We confess being incapable of comprehending either the honesty or policy of such a course, even if there were any doubt as to the absolute meaning of the law and this sentiment becomes stronger in view of the fact that the laws clearly and unmistakably require the cancelment of these bonds in coin Merchants at the East are paying from seven to nine per cent interest on borrowed money and merchants on the Pacific coast are paying as high as twelve to fifteen per cent. These rates are warranted by the correspondingly benefits arising from their business transactions, and are not deemed extravagant. Merchants only borrow when their necessities compel The greater the urgency, the more interest they are willing to pay Government in its greatest need, in the direst straits, borrowed money for the preservation of its very existence, and borrowed it at only six per cent interest, exhibiting quite as much economy and prudence as our merchants exercise in their private transactions If the sum borrowed was enormous the interest must be in proportion but it was never theless, at rates far more moderate than our commercial business men can command for their accommodation When public affairs are managed with as much prudence, judgment and economy as its leading business men use in their transactions, no one has a legitimate reason to complain It almost seems that the men who furnished their money and those who shed their blood to preserve the Union, were fast fading from the memories of those who benefited by their devotion and in a short time they may become even objects of commiseration unless a higher and more honorable standard of public honesty and morals be inaugurated

George Francis Train a celebrated dinner specialist in London which used to be reproduced at such length in this country, were delivered, we are told, to a dozen boon companions in a shop house down the Strand

Money and Business Matters

The San Francisco Commercial Herald of the 9th has the following in regard to the supply of money

The San Francisco money market exhibits no exception to the general plethora now existing in nearly all the money centers of the world. Capital is most abundant, and increasing yet the rates of interest remain unchanged First class securities obtain all required at 1 and 1½ per cent. per month—mostly at the first named figure Loans on real estate are effected at 10 and 12 per cent per annum The deposits in our savings and loan institutions are largely in excess of calls for loans, and a large volume of capital is now lying idle in their vaults Our banks are also heavily supplied with cash It is a subject of much interest to discover where the four or five hundred millions of dollars in specie, now locked up in the various banks of Europe and the United States have suddenly emerged from. What peculiar phase of finance has unearthed this vast amount of treasure and massed it together? It is possible that the distracted condition of the world for a series of years, forced immense masses of capital into retirement, and it is now reappearing upon the return of a more settled and pacific disposition England, France, Spain, Italy, Austria, Turkey, Russia, Denmark, Prussia, the United States, Mexico Chili, Peru, Brazil Buenos Ayres, Paraguay, the Central American Republics, China, Japan, and several other countries, have been more or less engaged in sanguinary wars during the last decade While those repeated and terrible conflicts were being waged, gold and silver refused to put in an appearance for general use, but is once more seeking its proper channels, since peace reigns in nearly all the countries named

Of the wheat and flour market, the same paper says

Our receipts of Wheat and Flour combined since the incoming of the present crop year, July 1st, approximate in round numbers 4,000,000 sacks Our exports for the same period are 3,700,000 sacks—say of the former 200,000 tons, and of the latter 135 000 tons, valued at upwards of $5,000,000 In addition to this we have now a dozen vessels on the berth loading breadstuffs, and of a capacity sufficient to swell our exports of breadstuffs for the past four months to about 150,000 tons It is idle to speculate as to our remaining surplus as much will depend upon the market price when it comes to hand, it will be considerable to say the least. The present prices of Flour and Wheat in this market as compared with a corresponding period of last year is fully twenty-five per cent higher A year ago Liverpool freights were £3, now they are £5 5s per ton. From present indications the shipments of Flour and Wheat to the United Kingdom since harvest, promise large returns to the owners, and we trust equally profitable to those shipping to New York and Boston Thus far this season no Flour has been shipped via Panama for the New York market, all sent via Cape Horn

The United States Economist, in an article on the resumption of specie payments, says

It is high time that the public conscience were awakened upon the duty of the Government resuming the payment of its obligations in specie. The public seems to have learned to overlook the fact that the greenback circulation is an unpaid promise to pay in coin, and that the honor of the Government and the whole resources of the country are pledged to the fulfillment of the engagement. The Treasury, once having issued the notes to an extent which rendered their payment for a time impossible, suspension of gold payments became an unfortunate necessity. But under no conceivable ground could the Government be justified in protracting the suspension for one day beyond the period when the coin resources of the Treasury would enable it to resume Such delay would be a breach of good faith with the creditors of the Government, and would afford a precedent for trifling with solemn obligations which no government could establish without damnifying the standard of financial probity among the people and lowering the credit of the nation.

A thousand questions of banking and commercial convenience are discussed in connection with the proposal to resume and because these questions cannot be answered quite satisfactorily, because it is imagined that resumption will involve deranging fluctuations and inconvenience to the claims of contracts made pending the period of suspension, there is a disposition to defer indefinitely the return to specie payments, and a silly pretence is set up that resumption will come about by a natural process and cannot be accomplished by official action anticipating that supposed ripeness though the neglect of all effort by the Government to honor its obligations were only intended to appreciate their value As it is a very common thing with communities, in cases of this sort, to regard their individual convenience as of more importance than the maintenance of the honor and integrity of the Government, it is not surprising that there should be a shrinking from the effort to resume specie payments But the Government can have no excuse for regulating its action by a settlement of the character Its simple business is the promise to pay, and its duty is to keep good its promises to the utmost of its ability, as an exemplar of financial justice and as the custodian of the national honor

The question in the present case is simply whether the Government has an adequate supply of coin for commencing and maintaining the payment of its obligations in specie The argument that the large amount of obligations outstanding rendered the attempt at resumption hazardous is being rapidly divested of its force, if, indeed, this obstacle ever had any existence outside the unreasoning fears of the opponents of resumption. The Treasury has already retired or funded a large portion of its compound notes and seven thirties, within ten months the whole of these will have matured and now so far within the control of the Secretary that it is perfectly able to get the whole amount out of the way within six months This ground of objection must therefore soon disappear At the same time, the basis of legal tender has been reduced to about $350,000,000 while the reserve of coin in the Treasury has been increased to nearly $100,000,000 In such a condition of affairs what excuse have we for demanding an indefinite postponement of resumption? Continued suspension would be a deliberate dishonoring of public obligations when we had the full ability to redeem them

Grant Meeting in Philadelphia

Several Republican meetings were held in the different wards of Philadelphia on the evening of the 22d October for the purpose of pronouncing in favor of General Grant as the Republican candidate for the Presidency The following preamble and resolutions, adopted by the First Ward meeting, fairly represent the general spirit of the whole

WHEREAS The principles of the Republican party dear to every loyal heart having been assailed by the hand of treachery, their future success should be secured by placing in nomination as exponents of those principles none but honest, capable and reliable Republicans; and whereas, the name of General Grant has been placed before the people as a candidate for President, therefore be it

Resolved That we recognize in General Ulysses S. Grant a firm friend and supporter of the laws enacted by a Republican Congress for the reconstruction of the Southern States and for the protection of the rights and privileges of all our citizens

Resolved, That his course in sustaining the sections and decisions of Generals Sheridan Sickles, Pope and Sch field, meets with our hearty approval and deserves our thanks

Resolved That his cheerful acquiescence, his intelligent interpretation and his steadfast adherence to the laws adopted by Congress stamp him as being in harmony with that body, and entitle him to the respect and support of the Republican party

Resolved, That in General Ulysses S Grant we recognize a man whom we can trust as the standard bearer of the principles of the great Republican party, and heartily recommend his nomination for President of the United States

Satisfactory evidence has been discovered to prove that the Peruvians before the Conquest, were familiar with the surgical operation of trepanning, has been well established, yet of its performance by the older nations of the New World we had hitherto no indications

The Income Tax.

The necessity of paying taxes in some form for the support of the Government and the extinguishment of the national debt being inevitable, it is not easy to see how any more effective or more just method of raising revenue could be devised than the income tax as it now stands. If the citizens cannot pay a tax on his actual income, after the sum of $1,000, sufficient in most cases to support a family, is made exempt, it would be difficult to imagine what kind of tax he would find it within his ability to pay. It is often objected that there is great injustice in levying a tax upon income that has already been expended; that it is a very oppressive law which requires the payment of a tax upon a thing which is not in possession, but which has already been consumed. This is specious plausible; but the real injustice is not towards those who expend their income and are obliged to pay a tax on it afterwards, but towards those who save their income and invest it in such a manner that it is liable to continual taxation. A person who spends all he receives pays one tax and no more; but he who saves a part of his income and invests it, must also pay five per cent. annually on the interest or profits, which is equivalent to an immediate payment of a second five per cent on the principal. On this ground Mill and other semi at authorities argue for the exemption of savings from taxation, instead of the exemption of what is already expended. The justice of exemption is clear enough, and as the sum of $1,000 is left untaxed, there are probably very few instances where actual hardship to those who are guided by prudence and economy, would result from the income tax in its present form. The majority of those whose expenses are certainly much in excess of $1,000 a year, are fully able to pay the tax; for if the man who has ten thousand a year can not afford to pay a fixed proportion of his superfluities, the whole idea of taxation might as well be abandoned.

In 1816, after England had enjoyed the power of Napoleon and it was felt that the weight of taxation might be partly removed, the income tax in that country was wholly abolished. But after a few years it was found necessary to re-enact it, and it has been continued to the present time. No more effective or certain method of obtaining revenue could be devised, and England, after some years of peace, was obliged to come back to the system of taxing income. This spirit of tax has always met with opposition to be sure, but the opposition, as in this country, doubtless proceeds in part from those who would object to paying a tax of any kind. Efforts have been repeatedly made to repeal or partially modify the income tax, but they have always failed. A Committee of the House of Commons was appointed in 1851 to inquire into the best means of assessing and collecting the taxes and giving relief, in certain cases, of evils which was that the tax on [illegible] was established in force on [illegible] As England with her people as one of the best and most equitable modes of raising money, those who are [illegible] of the tax in this [illegible] what they pay to it. Under [illegible] value to the Government. We notice in [illegible] the city of Albany the same tax has been levied, this year, and it would seem that this tax is to be levied, this year in a fairer and just way to be borne as many [illegible] be [illegible]

[illegible] by political [illegible] the [illegible] of dividing or consolidating the vote of any given State in such a way as to [illegible] Democratic [illegible] [illegible] is not [illegible] It is really one of the [illegible] of the times, and the rule on which it [illegible] to be well understood. The [illegible] of the [illegible] The [illegible] of this [illegible] and [illegible] For instance: Under the [illegible] this year, ANDREW JOHNSON that per [illegible], and [illegible] that the [illegible] or [illegible] next year will [illegible] to [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] and [illegible] to the Democrats, and make the vote of Ohio, New York Pennsylvania and [illegible] States the next thing to guesswork for the Democracy. In [illegible] on this [illegible] and [illegible] in a Democratic [illegible] you find it not [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] will give a Democratic majority of 9,000; Maine, 5,000; Illinois, 35,000; New York, 100,000; Ohio, 2,000; Pennsylvania, 2,115, and all the other States reduction in like proportion. There can be no mistake about these [illegible] the [illegible] upon the principle given [illegible] the demonstration plainly clear. Care must be taken that [illegible] have fraudulently very large [illegible] majorities, to fix the ratio of Democratic [illegible] high enough; with which precaution there can be no doubt that the figures will [illegible] solid prize stove triumph for the Democracy.

Read the [illegible] and [illegible] of the [illegible] tion of this [illegible] and its application to the [illegible] would [illegible] results and [illegible] majorities for the Democracy even greater than the Opposition for the Democratic party has held its own this year in the fight over local issues, and [illegible] that next year when national issues are before the people it will gain from two to ten times as much as it lost in the late elections, and results are [illegible] quite as striking as the Democratic organ obtains by its application of this exact mathematical process. By this process of reasoning [illegible] that Maryland will give a Republican majority of 17,462; Maryland a Republican majority of 20,215; Delaware a Republican majority of 7,491; Ohio a Republican majority of 11,199; New York a Republican majority of 216,912, while in Maine, Massachusetts, etc., the Democratic vote will be [illegible] sensibly less than nothing, and expressible only by algebraic symbols. Such is the conclusion to which this Democratic formula infallibly leads. On these principles we reckon on a tremendous counter "demonstration" next year. The Herald shall have the credit of developing the process by which this result is obtained.

The Copperheads tell us that they are certain to triumph in the Presidential election next year. In that event we suppose the following appointments will be [illegible]: Secretary of State, Fernando Wood; Secretary of War, C. L. Vallandigham; Secretary of the Navy, "Admiral" Semmes; Secretary of the Interior, Henry Clay Dean; Postmaster General, James Seddon, (just pardoned); Attorney General, Jerry Black; Commissioner of Indian Affairs, John Morrissey or John P. Miller; Controller of the Currency, Ben. Wood; Commissioner of "Swamp Lands," Beriah; Editor of the Organ, "Brick."

James W. Barry, an old resident of Walla Walla, died suddenly at that place on Friday morning last of apoplexy. He was for a long time chief clerk of the O. S. Co. at the Dalles.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 18.—Judge Lowndes to-day, decided in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Perkins vs. Ritz. The plaintiff, Perkins, asked that defendant, Ritz, be debarred from acting as Police Judge, and that Perkins be installed therein; having been rightly entitled to the office since November 1st; the day on which he qualified for the unexpired term of late Judge Shepherd, as well as for two years from next January. Defence contended that Ritz was entitled to the office until the expiration of the term for which Shepherd was elected to fill vacancy at last election.

John ——, while working under a tank near the corner of Polk and Vallejo streets, was caved on by a large quantity of earth and instantly killed—his head being terribly crushed.

A wooden building on the corner of Clay and Montgomery streets, owned by Wm. Thornley, was burned this morning. The contents of several shops and saloons were damaged. The aggregate of loss was but a few thousand dollars, which was partially covered by insurance.

The departure of the Panama steamer Montana has been postponed until to-morrow, on account of the non-arrival of the Great Republic from Japan. The latter steamer is now three days overdue, but as several good reasons are known which may have caused her detention, no serious apprehensions are felt.

Thomas Monahan, brakeman in the employ of the S. F. & S. J. Railroad, sues the company for $5,000 damages alleged to have been sustained by him on the occasion of the recent accident to the train on which he was employed.

Oats $1 70@1 85.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—The steamer Montana sailed for Panama this morning with 290 passengers and $863,770 in treasure.

The steamer Great Republic from Hong Kong and Yokohama arrived at 3 o'clock P. M. The news from China is interesting but not of special importance. The principal interest of the foreigners in Japan, centres in the approaching opening of the City of Osaca, with its port Hiogo, on the shores of the Sea of Miranda, more generally spoken of as the Inland Sea, the City of Yeddo and a port on the west coast, which will probably be Nanzi. English and American surveys have been taken of the principal ports on the west coast, but no decision has been made public as to which will be opened. From all that can be gathered from letters from Osaca and observations of visitors to Yeddo, both places will be opened as soon as practical. In Yeddo an immense hotel is being prepared by the government for the use of foreigners, and it is more than questionable, whether any more will be done in the way of opening the City of Osaca to them. In Yokohama about 15 acres have been set apart for foreign settlers. The ratifications of the Belgian treaty were exchanged at Yeddo on the 10th ult.

A letter from Manilla, October 7th, gives the following painful intelligence: Since our report of the 19th ult., we have had very boisterous weather. Manilla during the 24th, 25th and 26th ult., was under water, in some parts there was four feet of water over the streets, and disastrous inundations have taken place in the northern provinces.

Reports have been received (yesterday) from Hocos that three villages have entirely disappeared and several hundred lives lost.

The mail from Europe of the 10th of August, which should have arrived here about the 24th ult., has not done so, and fears are entertained of the steamer from Hong Kong to this port as being lost. The Water Lily has put in here in distress with heavy damages. The Water Lily, from this city for New York, has been blown down, with heavy damages, and the master of the Sunset, Worthey, has arrived in an open boat, having been wrecked in a gale on the North Bengar Shoal. Fears are entertained of the Annie Langdon and Fort Yuma, both having been last seen in a dangerous position. The Fort Yuma, British bark, is a total wreck on the coast of Lower California to the south, and the news of further disasters is daily arriving.

The Agent of the North American Steamship Company to-day sold the Oregonian on the Panama route, to compete with the new vessel Nebraska, in opposition to the P. M. S. S. Co's ship, has the effect of lowering the rates of passage by the Oregonian. First cabin fares are $100 and $125; second cabin, $70; steerage, $40; by mail line, first cabin, $183 and $170; second cabin, $80; steerage, $43 and $40.

Wm. F. Wilson, Esq., has been appointed acting U. S. District Attorney during the absence of Hon. Delos Lake, who left on the steamer this morning for Washington, on [illegible]

FROM WALLA WALLA.

The Statesman of the 15th has the following:

INDIAN WARRIORS.

A detachment of Indian warriors, under the command of Capt. John Darragh and Lieut. McKay, arrived from Harney Lake a few days since, and are for the present stationed at Fort Walla Walla. These Indians were recruited over a year ago for the purpose of acting as scouts, and in the war against the Snakes have rendered efficient service. They came here as an escort to several hundred animals that have been driven into the valley to winter. As soon as they are relieved, it is understood that they will be sent to Fort Dalles and mustered out. During their enlistment they have been on duty in Oregon, California, Nevada, Idaho and Washington, and have shown themselves admirably adapted for the peculiar service in which they were engaged. In a regular stand up fight they were greatly inferior to the white soldiers, but when it came to scouting their services were invaluable. We think it would be well if the Department would arrange to keep one or two companies of Indians constantly in the field, until such time as the marauding bands of Snakes are either exterminated or brought to [illegible]

ALIVE.

It will be recollected that a few weeks since quite an excitement was occasioned by the report of murder of a man named Albert Humphrey, who formerly kept a butcher shop at Walla Walla. Two men were arrested, supposed to be in some way connected with his murder. An examination was had, but there being no evidence that a murder had been committed, the men were discharged. Parties who have recently come down from Helena, inform us that the left Humphrey well and hearty, and that all reports of his murder are "bosh." Our informant, Mr. Stanley, was well acquainted with Humphrey and had frequent conversations with him. He stated that he had started to go to the States, and whilst on the road, between Helena and Fort Benton, two men who were in company with him robbed him of all his means. He then retraced his steps, and when last seen at Helena was "flat broke." He was preparing to go out on a hunting expedition, and had started to make a raise by supplying the Helena market with game. Humphrey has a wife and father, and other relatives living near Eugene City, Oregon, who will be overjoyed to learn that he is still alive. Mr. S. tells us that Humphrey talked strange, and from his conduct he is inclined to think that he is scarcely in his right mind. The men who were arrested at Walla Walla, no doubt were the parties that robbed him. On the supposition that Humphrey was dead, letters of administration were taken out on his estate, and a partial disposition made of his property. Another verification of the saying that truth is stranger than fiction."

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.—The following are suggested as the probable planks of the National Democratic Platform for 1868: 1. A nigger is not as good as a white man. 2. Not being as good as a white man, a nigger is good for nothing at all. 3. If you let a nigger vote he will marry your daughter. 4. A dollar is not a dollar, but a piece of green paper. 5. A promise to pay is binding only as long as it may be convenient to keep it. 6. Free liquor. The New York Tribune names Pollard as the most suitable man to write the "Life" of the National Democratic candidate who may be placed on this platform.

TELEGRAPHIC.—A most noticeable instance of American newspaper enterprise, and the advantages derived from oceanic telegraphy, may be instanced in the fact that the New York Tribune obtained and published the news of Garibaldi's arrest before it was ever known to a single person in London or all England. The fact was transmitted through England by the Tribune's special correspondent, in cypher—so that it was not even known to the telegraphic operators themselves.

In the Ohio election the Republicans had a majority of the popular vote in the Second, Fourth, Seventh, Eighth, Tenth, Fourteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth and Nineteenth Congressional Districts; and the Democrats had a majority in the First, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth Districts.

IN UNION [illegible] SETH.—And as everybody is buying their Clothing of KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front Street, it must be a fact that cannot be denied that they have the Largest Stock of Clothing in the city, and sell it at prices that defy competition. Ladies, too, are becoming convinced that at the ST. LOUIS STORE they find just such goods as they want, and at prices that make them smile when they return to their happy firesides.

MULTIPLICATION OF INVENTIONS.—It has often been remarked of late that the number of useful inventions patented for patent from Oregon is something remarkable and withal, very creditable to the State. This is very true. Few people, however, who speak in this way realize the full importance of the results which will some time follow. It must have been observed that almost every invention thus far noticed by the press instead of being a trivial plaything is a machine or an implement of value to the bed rock industrial interests of the country and one which will commend itself to the correspondingly interests of all other countries. If made and sold they will bring considerable sums to the manufacturer. Instead of in re dible. The invention of a bauble worth twenty five cents, may enrich the inventor and yet be of not a cents value to the country. A machine however, which saves labor or prevents waste adds to the wealth of whatever community into which it may be introduced. The latter is the character which may be truthfully given to all of the Oregon inventions that have been mentioned. The impression which may be gained, however, that Oregon inventions have been more numerous of late, in proportion to population than those of other sections of the United States is perhaps altogether erroneous. Since the close of the war, there seems to have been everywhere a surprising increase of inventions and improvements on old ones. What effect the war may have had on the inventive mind of the nation might afford a very interesting inquiry whether the rapid multiplication of inventions be the result of the nervous and wakeful state of mind for five years or whether since the close of the war the inventive faculties have awakened from a refreshing repose of five years and have gone to work with renewed strength. Be this as it may the fact is apparent that the year 1867 will be considered an epoch in inventive progress. The number of applications for patents in 1866 was 16,000—a remarkably good showing as compared with preceding years. The number of applications this year, long ago exceeded 16 000 and will undoubtedly reach beyond 25,000 at the close of the year judging from statements made by the Patent office. Nearly all these are for useful ...tions and implements.

OLIVE OR PEABODY OF THE COLUMBIA.—The Walla Walla Statesman of the 16th complains that the steamers of the O. S. N. Co., plying on the Columbia river, above Celilo cannot carry all the down freight offered, and that it is frequently accumulating in large quantities at Wallula. It says: Our Wallula correspondent refers to the ...unt of flour and grain that is being sent from this valley for shipment. From another source we learn that freighters have been allowed to accumulate at Wallula until now it is a matter of whether the Company will be able to clear the ...ding before the close of the season. This uncertainty has caused a lull in the demand for both ...ness, as parties are unwilling to operate with the prospect of having to hold their stocks until the opening of navigation in the spring. In a spirit of accommodation, we think the O S N Company should put on additional boats, and thus show a disposition to meet the requirements of trade. The freight now ...ed will employ a daily line of boats until the close of navigation, and having only a number of idle boats the property would at once place them on the line. The season is ...ly, and by employing every available boat, last chance, who control the river should bear in mind that the more freight they take down, the heavier will be the ...ds for the return trip. Business Excursion.—A gentleman who ... of Lafayette on Monday, on route to this city informs us that a great railroad meeting was to be held at that place on Monday evening. Recorder's Court.—The following proceedings were had in the Recorder's Court yesterday:

State vs. Jas. Ward; charge, larceny of $5, from G ... Cotter. Tried and defendant discharged.

State vs. Justice Quitzak; assaulting and threatening to kill a squaw evidence taken, ... till this morning.

City vs. Daniel McCarthy; drunk and disorderly, sent before the County Judge to be examined for admission to the county hospital.

State vs. J. J. Moss, assault with intent to kill. ...

Black Walnuts.—A few days ago we mentioned some black walnuts raised on the farm of Mr Miller near Milwaukie, from trees twenty two years old from the nuts. This has brought out a letter from Mr W P Crow of Starr's Point, Benton county in which he says: "I can beat that my walnut tree is only thirteen years old, and has been bearing walnuts for four years. This year it had about nine hundred nuts. I believe it is as large a tree of its kind as there is in the State." Mr Crow's tree is certainly entitled to a prize ribbon.

Circuit Court—Shattuck, Judge.—The following are the proceedings of yesterday in the Circuit Court:

State of Oregon vs. Frank Bolton; indictment for larceny of a boat; verdict of jury guilty, value of property stolen, ... $ at $20 00.

State of Oregon vs. Brown; defendant arraigned; plead not guilty. J C Wait appointed to defend.

Smith & Smith, California State Telegraph Co., jury trial; argument to be concluded this morning.

On the Bar.—The Californian, which left her dock on Monday night, got aground on the ... long back at Swan Island, and ... remained during yesterday. It was hoped or expected that she would get off at high tide last midnight. She drawing about thirteen feet of water ... inches less than the Montana. Later—after the above was in type, we learned that the Californian got off before dark.

Good for Oregon.—Another source of revenue to the State has been created. We notice several shipments of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters to California and as soon as the bottles can be manufactured a large order will be filled from New York. The curative properties of this medicine are appreciated abroad as well as at home. See the certificates of several prominent citizens of the State on fourth page.

It also prevents the ... of the mouth from roughing the plate, and from turning it black which is a common occurrence. One-half of the common vulcanite plates turn black after being in use a short time, particularly where tobacco is used for smoking. His new style of plate admits of a very fine finish on the concave or palate surface. His office is the only place where such work can be had. The improvement is his own invention for which he has made application to the United States Patent Office for a patent. He has been making this style of work for the last two and a half years, and has specimens of the work which can be seen at his residence and office on Third street. This work has given satisfaction in every case.

The King of [illegible]

Draw back the cradle curtains, Kate,
Whilst watch and ward you're keeping,
Let a see the monarch in its state,
And view him whilst he's sleeping.
He smiles and clasps his tiny hand,
As an [illegible] come to
A world of baby fairy land
He visits while he's dreaming.

Monarch of pearly powder puff
Asleep in neat so cosy,
Shielded from b[illegible]th of liverous rough
By curtains warm and rosy,
He slumbers soundly in his cell,
As weak as one decrepit,
Though King of Creat, Lord of Bell,
And Knight of Bath that's tepid

Ah, lucky tyrant happy lot!
Fair watchers without number
To sweetly sing beside his cot,
And hush him off to slumber;
White hands in wait to smooth so neat
His pillow when its rumpled,
On couch of rose-leaves fresh and sweet,
Not one of which is crumpled

Will yonder dainty dimpled [illegible]
Alas, nothing and a quarter—
E'er change a saber lead a hand
To glory and to slaughter!
And, may I ask, will those blue eyes
In baby patois "peepers"—
E'er in House of Common rise
And strive to catch the Speaker's?

Though rosy, dimpled, plump and round,
Though fragile, soft and tender,
Sometimes, alas it may be found
The thread of life is slender)
A little shoe, a bitten glove
A [illegible] never wearing—
The shattered idol of our love,
Is all that is remaining!

Then close one chance, in Nancy, hear—
Small feet in British pattern,
Tread soft as they in grave draw near,
And voices hush their chatter;
'Tis small and new, they p[illegible] in form,
Ben [illegible] the gray church tower,
Twas dash'd by a tear
And deck'd with a flower.

Then take your babe, Kate, kiss him so,
Push to your [illegible]
Of m[illegible] "I love what does he [illegible]
Thr[illegible] closely you —
Ah! what a man will he that boy,
What mind and [illegible]
If he fulfils the hope and joy
Of mother's fruition.

The Gulf Stream

[From the New York [illegible]

The Bremen Gazette [illegible] for Optic [illegible] a theory of the gulf stream which will be [illegible] to navigators and others [illegible] have [illegible] the subject of [illegible] ages their [illegible] of locality. The brief, after giving [illegible] of the gulf [illegible] as has been said, and all [illegible] as he should have [illegible] to do, the explanatory [illegible] before [illegible] his own, claims that the [illegible] water, mainly fed by the Mediterranean [illegible] In other words he thinks that the [illegible] of the Mediterranean [illegible] and into the bowels of the earth through the vortex of Scylla and Charybdis that path by which Sindbad the sailor [illegible] and not as [illegible] as the Mississippi, receives an immense [illegible] from [illegible] and [illegible] third of all the running [illegible] of Europe [illegible] at last into the Atlantic Ocean. The [illegible] of the sea, as well as from the Atlantic, into the Mediterranean, which the [illegible] vastly promotes by its evaporation. The [illegible] of Black river [illegible] the Mississippi, [illegible] that the latter river [illegible] all rain [illegible] the whole country between the Alleghanies and the Rocky Mountains, and that it [illegible] to bring down [illegible] and they [illegible] in the gulf [illegible] That is the whole [illegible], which, properly [illegible] examination, to be no mystery at all. The idea [illegible] of Scylla and Charybdis is [illegible] with its [illegible] known by this modern myth-worker; which, as a matter of fact, it is not. [illegible] would [illegible] all, and by no [illegible] to obstruct [illegible] The [illegible] of the Mediterranean [illegible] by [illegible] of evaporation [illegible] and the Black Sea.

The [illegible] that mighty [illegible] which we call the gulf [illegible] is not [illegible] which requires [illegible] so very much [illegible] It is much [illegible] [illegible] with [illegible] of the Atlantic, by the [illegible] of the earth, or by the pressure of the tidal [illegible] by the constant [illegible] of cold or heavy water [illegible] the [illegible] of the globe [illegible] by [illegible] to maintain the [illegible] of temperature in the [illegible] by [illegible] to [illegible] in the atmosphere.

If [illegible] why [illegible] which we may call "the Arctic," the "Antarctic," the "Japan," the "Gulf," the "Arctic," the "Antarctic," the "Davis Straits" [illegible] and the "Mexican." Shall we suppose subterranean [illegible] Certainly not, [illegible] with [illegible] for the sake of naming original and [illegible] This may do very well in politics but it will not do in [illegible] Currents of the ocean, like currents of the air, move in channels [illegible] to certain [illegible] for the [illegible] of temperature; and although we do not yet fully understand [illegible] we know enough of them to save us from the new city of [illegible] such ridiculous [illegible] as the one upon which we have commented.

No Stamp on it.—A good joke came off recently at a court house. A gentleman living a short distance out of the village is in the habit of frequently coming to town and [illegible] to inebriation. At such seasons he is apt to call on his friend Judge M[illegible] By [illegible] he made one of his visits, [illegible] was decidedly dry, called upon Judge M[illegible] did [illegible] the Judge to write him a pledge, [illegible] his intention to quit drinking. His friend wrote the pledge as desired, and the tipsy individual affixed his name [illegible] etc. He then [illegible] it, that he might take it home and exhibit it to his wife. His honor thought that he himself was the proper custodian of the important [illegible] it, but yielded to the solicitations of the man, at the same time telling him that if he broke the [illegible] and appeared [illegible] before him again in a state of intoxication, he would have him [illegible] up. [illegible] and the [illegible] was [illegible] by the [illegible] man, "I [illegible] stamp on it."

"How is that?" said his honor, "did I not tell you I would have you locked up if you did not keep your appointment?" "Judge M——," said the tipsy fellow, "do you think I am a fool? I know what I'm about. I'll show you if I'm a fool!" and he drew forth his treasure from his pocket and took out his pledge, unfold it, its worn edges, and, holding it up triumphantly, exclaimed "Will you just show me the United States Internal Revenue stamp on that [illegible]" The Judge cared.

A [illegible] man, on a Sunday School occasion, was [illegible] king to a large audience of children, when he saw that he must do something to raise their [illegible] Just then he [illegible] of Peter, so he paused, and [illegible] if any one of the children could tell him anything about Peter; but their mouths were all closed. He [illegible] to the older scholars, then at last he came to the youngest, and he said, "Come, now, little one, shame your elders and tell me something about Peter." "I can," exclaimed a little four year old.

"Can you? That is a [illegible] girl. Well, [illegible] right up here and tell us all that you can about Peter."

The little girl was passed forward to the stage. "Now," said the [illegible] her, "let us know what you know about Peter. Speak right out."

The little girl spoke

"Peter, Peter,
Punkin eater," etc.

In regard to the town of Jackson, Ohio, where all the voters, 409 in number, voted the Democratic ticket, the New York Commercial remarks: "We had occasions to travel through that portion of Ohio a few years since, when a cold [illegible] us, as the result of his observations and inquiries, that but one in thirty of the people could read, while on an average only one in fifty-five can read a Bible."

The Annexation of Mexico

The London Times thinks, now that the European usurpers have been driven out of Mexico and all hope of an empire there destroyed, that Mexico will one day in the no distant future drop into the lap of the United States, and ask to be made a part and parcel of this great nation. While putting forth its ideas on this point, that journal says:

"When the fruit is sufficiently ripe it will fall, and the Republic adjacent to Mexico is too wise to stretch forth a hand to pluck it. Juarez himself is unwillingly making the inevitable transfer easy by carrying the United States Government to Mexico.

If the people, consent to adopt it under the worst rulers in the world, they will easily conform themselves to it when it is fairly and honestly administered. The delegates from the States will only have to travel a few thousand miles farther to find themselves in the Capitol at Washington, and enjoy all the blessings of a firm and stable government. In the meantime, the American Foreign Secretary must be aware that it matters little what manœuvers the Mexican scarabites may amuse themselves with. Juarez may have made a judicious appropriation of the public funds in procuring the support of Porfirio Diaz, and thus remove one obstacle to his re-election, and he may perhaps calculate safely on another term of office. Santa Anna is never likely to leave the soil of Mexico alive, and O'Horan was shot a few weeks ago. This is a short and effectual way of dealing with political antagonists, and therefore no moral scruples to retard its success in Mexico. If Juarez be re-elected, the course of events will still bring Mexico nearer and nearer to the United States. A nation would have more of the virtue of self denial than has hitherto been common in the world, if it threw away so tempting a prize. We are at present the spectators of an awkward interlude.

The Americans cannot make overtures, because they are too busy with their own affairs. The Mexicans are suffering all the agonies of a middle state without having the disposition to pass to one more decided. But then they, notwithstanding their natural instincts and habits, must be almost weary of government by adventurers and universal insolvency. They must begin to see that impossible rules would be an advantage to them, and it is better for them that they should have rulers whom they would be afraid to assassinate. They thought it no sin to assassinate a Prince of one of the houses of Europe, but they would doubtless shrink from raising a sacrilegious hand against a President of the United States. The Mexicans need above all things, what they have never had since the days of Cortes, a Governor capable of over-awing them, and in the chief representative of the power of the United States they would be more nearly suited than by any other "if they could make."

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT!

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED, HAVING PURchased of the "UNION BOOK & JOB PRINTING OFFICE," of T. F. McElroy propose to issue a Weekly Newspaper at Olympia W. T., on or about the 1st of December next, to be called THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT.

The paper will be devoted to the Agricultural, Mercantile, Commercial, Mineral, Moral and Political interests of the whole Territory.

In Politics we shall uphold and sustain the Union Principles of the Nation, at the same time [illegible] the right to be INDEPENDENT on all subjects, that we may be better able to discuss all matters in their true light, and give it to wherever it is due.

We trust our friends will circulate this prospectus generally, and assist us in getting a good list of Subscribers. Advertisements, or Job Work. We also invite correspondence from all sections of the Territory.

THE OLYMPIA TRANSCRIPT will be issued every Saturday, at $5 per annum, in advance.

Hoping to receive a share of public favor, we unfurl our banner to the breeze.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

HAS NOW BEEN BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR A length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended, never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used; and we have [illegible] known a single case of disease [illegible], on the contrary, all are benefited from the [illegible] the application of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the most [illegible] it is a [illegible] mankind entitles it to the [illegible] rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it.

☞ Read the following [illegible] from some of the most [illegible] of this city.

MIRACULOUS CURE.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam has had upon my wife. She had been afflicted with a dangerous [illegible] for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit, and all the remedies failed to give her [illegible] relief. I really believe she'd feared for the [illegible] but [illegible] Expectorant. She appeared to be worse at night, she could get no rest—when Mr. Rumbold, of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam; all other remedies having failed, I concluded to try it, and I purchased two bottles. Sure enough my wife, by the time I gave her three spoonsfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous. By the time she had taken one bottle through [illegible] was cured. Its effect was truly miraculous, and we feel [illegible] gratitude. I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is [illegible] in many [illegible] of [illegible] country, [illegible] it is [illegible] in the home. Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H. COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

Mount Vernon, July 12, 1867

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me. For the last three years I have been afflicted with a severe [illegible] and also some of the [illegible] called the Berry [illegible] and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to notice. Through the [illegible] of my neighbors I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam, and [illegible] got a bottle more. Beyond my expectation [illegible] considerable I sent for a half dozen more. And now after one month's using it I am perfectly cured. I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man. I send you this [illegible] for the benefit of humanity, that they may [illegible] of the [illegible] that may be relieved as I have been. Yours truly, WILLIAM DOTY.

From Sophia McHolman.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold, I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them teaspoonsful [illegible] and morning, and [illegible] was all that was needed to cure them. I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was. I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get [illegible] for which it is a sure remedy, as it acts like magic on children. What I have said and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would rather [illegible] than [illegible] any [illegible] from any physician. I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time none of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now. I shall always recommend it to all my friends, for I [illegible] Yours truly, SOPHIA M. HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale. But Dr. Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all. In fact, we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind, really it [illegible] of no use to keep any other. During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gave the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases, when nothing else would remove the dreadful cough they had. I find it a good [illegible] Bronchitis and [illegible] We acknowledge it a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction.

BELL & PARKER,
Druggists, Oregon City.

From W. F. Barber.

DR. HENLEY—Dear Sir: I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me. I tried all the patent remedies recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good 'till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam, which on several affected with the same [illegible] has performed wonders. I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since, and I really believe that I am perfectly cured, anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack. And I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease.

I am Yours truly,
W. F. BARBER.

From J. H. Morril.

DEAR DR. HENLEY—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public, for there is no use in [illegible] going on in patent medicines and quack nostrums now-a-days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine. I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years, I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time. I tried some of the best physicians in the United States and on this coast, all to no purpose. I could get no relief, and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world. I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me, and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can safely say as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it. My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it, I think there is not a better medicine in existence for bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam, and I conscientiously recommend to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial.

I [illegible] years, truly,

RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT!

THE MOST REMARKABLE DISCOVERY EVER MADE!

SPRAINED WRIST CURED.

PORTLAND, August 10 1867

I was at Mr. Wasserman's on Saturday, August 10th, at [illegible] the [illegible] effect of J. G. RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT in his case. I found relief inside of FIVE MINUTES from the application, and it is now perfectly well. The wrist was so stiff I could not use my fingers. I believe it will cure any pain in a short time. I will give any further particulars to whoever calls on me.

VINCENT McCULLOUGH,
Corner of Fifth and College streets.

Tumor Removed!

PORTLAND, August 10th, 1867

I HAVE USED RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT for pain and swelling of the gums and cheek. I had a large tumor forming on the gum, which arose from killing the nerve in my tooth and caused me a dreadful pain which prevented me from sleep for several nights. I applied the Liniment, and to my surprise, it removed the lump as I rested the jaw so that it is now as well as the other cheek. My cheek was fearfully swollen. This was done in the presence of two witnesses.

I. MITCHELL.

PORTLAND, August 12th, 1867.

For five years I have suffered with a pain or weakness in my back, which at times was dreadful. I often thought I could not bear such torn cut. But I got a bottle of RENNICK'S SITKA LINIMENT, and with one rub it perfectly cured me. I can recommend it to any body suffering from pain in any way, for I am convinced it will at once remove them. DORE COHN,
Corner of Fourth and Taylor streets.

Any person who does not believe this can call, and I will convince them.

Rheumatism Cured!

State of Oregon, County of Multnomah ss.

I, JEREMIAH BROCK, BEING DULY SWORN, SAY that I am fifty-three years of age, that I reside in Yamhill County, State of Oregon. I came to Portland on business on horseback, from my home this morning. When I left home I could scarcely walk or stand on my feet, from Rheumatism, which has afflicted me for the last eight years. I was standing in Wilson's stable, on First street, in this city, when I heard Mr Rennick's offer to bet that he would take out the Rheumatism in any case in twenty minutes. Rennicks offered to bet $100 that he could do it. I went to Mr Rennick's house and he applied the Liniment to my leg, and in twenty minutes my leg felt sound and limber, and as well as ever. JEREMIAH BROCK.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this August 20th, 1867. O. P. MASON,
Notary Public for Multnomah County, Ore.
